AUDITIONS for Neil Simon's
The Odd Couple (Female Version)
May 11 & 12, 2012

(Burlington, Vt.) – Everyone knows Neil Simon's beloved Tony Award-Winning comedy, "The Odd Couple," featuring the unlikely pair of roommates, Felix and Oscar. After many years of encouragement, Neil Simon went back and penned a female version of the show, set in the mid-1980s. This time around, our odd couple is Olive Madison, a successful television producer who's more than a little careless about the state of her apartment and Florence Unger, a highly meticulous "woman in transition." Like the male version, the pair are great friends and complete opposites, thrown together when Florence and her husband separate. Add to the mix four Trivial Pursuit-playing friends and a couple of attractive (and single) Spanish brothers who live upstairs and you've got a chaotic and hilarious clash of styles and cultures - not to mention a little airborne linguini.

AUDITION INFO

The comedy will be staged by Girls Nite Out Productions from October 4-7, 2012 and directed by Kathryn Blume. Auditions for the comedy are by appointment only on Friday, May 11th 6:15-9:45 and Saturday May 12th 12:15-2:00 at 1 Mill Street in Burlington.

ABOUT GIRLS NITE OUT PRODUCTIONS

Founded in 2010, Girls Nite Out Productions came to life when actresses Jennifer Warwick-Sokolowski and Janet Stambolian determined that the best way to provide more high quality theatrical roles for women was to create the opportunities on their own. Girls Nite Out's past two shows were the well-received "Steel Magnolias" and "Hallelujah Girls".
