

Scene Study Class for Adult Men and Women

What: You'll be working and on your feet in the first session! Explore acting techniques and hone your performance skills in this fun, supportive workshop environment. Over a series of seven 2.5 hour classes, each pair of scene partners will have the opportunity to develop and rehearse a scene. In addition to an overview of classic and contemporary acting methods, your creative work will be enhanced by weekly scene coaching, carefully selected acting exercises, voice production and body work. The eighth and final class will be a showcase for invited guests.

Who: Team-taught by local artists Jennifer Warwick and Kelly Kendall, whose acting, directing and coaching experiences include work in the professional, community and school spheres. Jennifer Warwick is the co-founder and this years Executive Director of Girls Nite Out Productions. Kelly Kendall sits on the Board of GNOP and is the current Education Chair.

Where: Classes will be held in The Chace Mill - 1 Mill Street, Suite 250 in Burlington. Please park and enter at the back of the building.

When: Class will be held Mondays and Thursdays from April 30th to May 24th from 6:30 to 9:00pm. It is expected that participants will attend all classes. Work outside of class with scene partners is also expected. The final class (May 24th) will be a showcase of work for an invited audience.

Cost: The class is offered at $160.00 per person ($20 a class). A maximum of 12 participants and a minimum of 8 are necessary to run the class.
